What type of information is sought? The FSSE contains questions drawn from the NSSE, and the intention is to be able to compare faculty responses to students NSSE responses. The NSSE attempts to measure levels of student engagement.

The full text of the FSSE is available at <https://nsse.indiana.edu/fsse/survey-instruments/main-survey/index.html>.

To whom are the results available? FSSE results are available to the University community through this almanac and by request from the Office of Academic Affairs.

Are the results useful for comparison to other universities? Yes.

How often is the FSSE administered? The FSSE is administered every two out of three academic years. During years in which the FSSE is not administered, the HERI survey is administered instead.

Where are the 2022 results? The results of the FSSE are returned in multiple reports, each of which is located in the appendices of the Almanac.

The Combined FSSE-NSSE Report (Appendix 3) compares faculty participant responses with the student responses from the National Survey of Student Engagement (NSSE). This report can be used to provide indicators of how well the faculty and student perceptions of student engagement are aligned.

The FSSE Main Survey Report (Appendix 2) contains summarized findings for 14 different content areas. Each page of the report begins with the name of the content area and a brief description of the constituent survey items.

The FSSE 2022 Inclusiveness & Engagement with Diversity and FSSE 2022 Academic Advising Reports (Appendix 4) are additional modules Truman State has historically participated in to determine how well we are supporting inclusiveness and engagement with diversity and our effectiveness in our academic advising efforts.
